

The 2024-2025 Private Companies Netball Competition tipped off today with the first trials.

Trials begin for PCNC 2024/25 season

The much-excited games started on a sluggish note but the turn out was overwhelming.

PCNC executives have scheduled a three-week trial for teams to iron out their performance and confirm their participation ahead of round 1.

Today's matches were quite slow as rookie teams explored a new playing environment whilst learning the PCNC processes.

We're certain the new teams will soon establish themselves before the actual competition begins.

Vodafone is PCNC sponsor for season 2024/25

PCNC is delighted to welcome this season's sponsor, Vodafone, who reaffirmed their commitment today with official presentation of the sponsorship. PCNC will officially be called Vodafone Private Companies Netball Club Inc. and the executives look forward to a fruitful partnership.

Reminder

On that token, teams who didn't show up for today's trials are expected to play in the upcoming games.

Teams who don't show face for the remaining trials will be taken off the draws for the proper season.

There will be adjustments made from division 2 downwards to accommodate all teams in the draw.

Some companies have proposed one team instead of two teams compared to last year.

A lot of HANDS ON HIPS!!!

We remind teams to closely observe the rules and regulations, to improve the game as the proceed.

Today's games were beautifully concluded by the men's. Running it's second year, new teams in Constantino Group of Companies, Steamships, Air Niugini and ISAS will compete in the 2024-2025 roster and they have already indicated potential spirit of premiership campaign.

It was pleasing to see the Senior Executives of Constantino Group of Companies come out in full force and enjoy playing a game of Netball.

Well done, Netball like all other games promotes gender equality and will be played by both men and women.

Breast Cancer Awareness Month

As part of Breast Cancer Awareness in October, we will be honouring this important cause.

All teams are encouraged to wear pink on the last Sunday of the month to show their support.

Let's come together as a community and raise awareness while we compete on the court!

Coaching and Umpires clinics

Meanwhile, spots for Coaching and Umpires clinics are still available. Interested persons are encouraged to register (R200/person).

This is a unique opportunity to update your Netball CV as the clinics will be certified.

Interested Companies can request for the fees to be included in the invoice for Mega fees.

Important notice for the week

Search training to get fit in preparation for your games.

- Good balance avoids incidents
- Lastly, we prefer the the IDs in lanyards for ease of reference. There should be two sets of IDs copies, in lanyard and/or A4 template for our records.

Thank you all and see you next week

Best Regards,
PCNC Executive Team
